Air Force Intelligence Conference on Soviet Affairs

The Assistant Chief of Staff, Intelligence (AFIN) is sponsoring a conference "The Soviet Union -- Towards the Twenty-First Century: Political-Military Affairs in the Gorbachev Era." The conference will be held 19 - 22 October at the Sheraton-National Hotel in Arlington, Virginia and will be a follow-up to the AFIN sponsored conference held in Reston, Virginia in October 1980, which attracted nearly 1000 participants.

The 1988 conference will examine Soviet political-military leadership and its domestic and foreign agendas on security issues likely to confront the USSR through the end of the century, including perestroika, the "new thinking," and glasnost. It will focus on the effect that Gorbachev's policies will have on Soviet defense policy, military doctrine, and relations with the United States. This will be a forum for experts on the Soviet Union from varied backgrounds, including scholars, policymakers, and government analysts.
